Letter from Dr. Robert Hunter—No. 4.

ON PULMONARY CONSUMPTION.

To the Editors of the Gazette:

In my last letter I concluded my observations on the diseases of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes, and I now come to speak of pulmonary consumption, that dread malady in which these affections, when neglected, invariably end.

Consumption is the most fatal disease in the long catalogue of bodily afflictions. In this, and indeed in all countries lying within the temperate zone, it causes one death in every four which result from disease! The deep interest and great importance of everything which promises to mitigate the ravages of this scourge cannot, therefore, be over estimated. The weekly bills of mortality point us to the startling fact, that of those who have passed the age of puberty, fully one in every four persons we meet in the great thoroughfares of business and pleasure is under the ban of this terrible disease, and destined sooner or later to fall a sacrifice to it, unless saved through more rational means than those usually employed.

In this and subsequent letters I shall endeavor to explain those points on which it is necessary for the public to be informed regarding the nature of this disease—the causes which produce it—the symptoms by which its approach may be known—the several stages and forms it assumes—the ages, classes, and callings most predisposed to it—and, lastly, those principles of practice which, if adopted in time and faithfully employed, will lead to its prevention when not established, and to its successful treatment when it is. To do justice to a subject of such wide range and vast importance will necessarily embrace many letters; but the reader will have in the complete series a practical history of this scourge, to which he can in the future confidently refer for guidance and instruction.

Consumption is caused by tubercles in the lungs. For a long time this term—consumption—was applied indiscriminately to all diseases of an obscure nature attended by wasting or emancipation of the body. They were called consumption because the body slowly consumed away. When the study of pathological anatomy—that is to say, the condition of the organs in disease—became more general it was soon found that disease of the lungs was more frequently the cause of wasting than all other chronic affections combined, and, in course of time, the term consumption became limited to pulmonary disease alone. When, therefore, I use the term I wish the reader to remember that I mean not only a disease of the lungs, but a particular kind of disease, characterized by the deposition of tubercles in their substance.

Tubercles are little granular bodies in the lungs deposited from the blood. They are most frequently located beneath the mucous membrane of the air-tubes, but they are also deposited in the air cells and on the free surface of the mucous membrane. When they are formed on the mucous membrane of the air-tubes, it is not uncommon for small cheesy particles to become detached, and expectorated by the patient long before any ulceration has taken place in the lung.

Tubercles are found in three different stages. In the first, they are grayish, half transparent, and feel firm and rough when the finger is passed over them. They vary in size from millet-seed to a common pea, and are known in medical parlance by the name of miliary tubercles. In this stage they cause very little disturbance of the system. All we usually find is, that the breathing is slightly shortened, and perhaps there is a disposition to hawk and clear the throat frequently; but beyond these indications the patient has no warning of what is taking place in the lungs.

Second stage.—The miliary tubercles increase in size by fresh particles, thrown off from time to time by the blood, and also undergo a change in color. They were, in the first stage, half transparent; they are now opaque, and becoming yellow. If we examine a portion of lung in which tubercles in the second stage exist, we find it studded here and there with what looks precisely like lumps of cheese. You can separate them and they break down between the fingers just like bits of old cheese. In size, tubercles vary in the second stage from a pea to a filbert, but it is also common to find here and there a tubercle of much larger size. If there are a great many tubercles, there will be a good deal of shortness of breath and some loss of flesh. Tubercles cause shortness of breath by closing the air tubes and cells of the part of the lung in which they are situated. There may also be cough and mucous expectoration, arising from the irritation they produce.

Third stage.—Having reached the stage of cheesy tubercle, the disease may remain stationary awaiting a sufficient exciting cause to carry it on to the last change. Sooner or later, the pressure produced by the tuberculous matter, or a fresh cold, produces inflammation in the surrounding tissues, and the whole breaks down, forming an ulcerous excavation or cavity in the part of the lung diseased. The matter or pus, formed by the destruction of the walls of the air-tubes and cells and by the softened tubercle, is coughed up and expectorated. As all the tubercles are not formed at the same time, but in successive crops, so softening does not take place in all at once. After the first shock to the system, caused by the ulceration and breaking down of a part of the lung, has passed, considerable improvement takes place in the symptoms, but soon a second crop of tubercles softens, and another part of the lung breaks down. This successive softening, slowly but surely undermines the patient's strength. As soon as the first softening of tubercles takes place we have all the worst symptoms inaugurated—hectic fever, night sweats, increase of cough, purulent expectoration, loss of flesh and strength.

Such is a brief outline of what takes place in the lungs in the three stages of consumption. Before death supervenes, a considerable portion of one lung becomes destroyed, and usually the other affected. Sometimes several distinct cavities are formed in the same lung, but it is more common for the intervening tissue to become obliterated, and the several small cavities to unite and form one large excavation.

I have told you that consumption is produced by tubercles. Now what is the cause of tubercles? It is necessary that this question should be answered before you can clearly understand how it is that other apparently trifling diseases can produce this fearful malady. In former letters I pointed out the danger of neglecting catarrh, sore throat, and bronchitis, and told you that these are the common causes of consumption. Tubercles result from imperfect decarbonization of the blood. Whatever prevents the free admission of pure air to the air cells will produce them. Softened tubercle is nothing more than the elements of the tissues in which it was deposited, united with a greater quantity of carbon. Mark, now, the effect of a catarrh in its influence on the lungs. I have told you that catarrh is a chronic inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the nose. The secretion which forms in the posterior nares, falls down into the throat, and rapidly extends the irritation to the entrance of the windpipe. When once it has reached this point, every slight change of weather, every exposure to dust, increases the irritation and carries it onward into the larynx, producing slight hoarseness, and into the bronchial tubes, causing the secretion of a sticky, bluish-white mucus. You see then, that a catarrh produces the irritation on which this mucus depends. The windpipe and bronchia in which it forms, are the tubes through which the lungs receive the air necessary for the removal of the carbon from the blood. Do you suppose you can obstruct those tubes and yet not diminish the air drawn through them at each inspiration? This sticky mucus not only obstructs them, but often completely seals up a tube of considerable size. And if you diminish the air received into the air-cells you cause a portion of the carbon to remain in the blood. The moment the air is shut off from a cluster of air cells the capillaries of those cells become gorged with imperfectly decarbonized blood, and are liable to become tuberculous. Kind nature is indulgent, and may bear with us for a time, but sooner or later a deposit of carbon takes place in the obstructed part, and from that moment the disease has changed from a simple catarrh or bronchitis to the most fatal disease known to our race. It is the obstruction of the air-tubes by mucous which causes the formation of tubercles, and hence it is that until the tubercles are actually formed the patient has no warning of his danger, beyond the presence of the sticky mucous which he hawks up from time to time.

Pulmonary Diseases.

The treatment of pulmonary diseases has been such a vast field for discussion and inquiry as to lead the popular mind only to doubt whether or not any form or stage of Consumption is at all curable. We believe, however, that the curability of Consumption, of late years has been generally conceded by the ablest medical men in the world, and post mortem examinations go to show large cicatrixes where formerly abscesses and ulcers had existed in the lungs. We have never believed much in the old, relaxing, debilitating and nauseating treatment of lung maladies, hence we do not believe in squills, nor antimony, nor digitalis, the latter of which was at one time lauded as infallible for Pulmonary Consumption, as barks and quinine for fever and ague, or sulphur for scabies.

Neither do we believe much in medicated air, nor yet in the extraordinary stimulating treatment with Bourbon whisky and brandy. Doubtless many cases have recovered under these stimulants, but they were isolated ones, under peculiarly advantageous circumstances, and under the surveillance of skillful and scientific physicians. There are sporadic cases of Consumption which sometimes would get well if left to themselves, but we would in no case advise the "let alone system."

We have long thought that the restoration to health of any organ or function, depended not so much on the medication that was brought in immediate proximity to the organ affected, or, in other words, by contact, as upon the restoration to a healthy and plastic power of the blood itself, which, it is well known, carries in its course through the arteries and veins, the material for rebuilding and renewing the whole animal organism. The doctrine of the renewal of the tissues, in this way, is now perhaps, as well established as any other in the medical art. This being perfectly performed, and the carrying off organs assiduous in their functions, health and not disease must be the result. What we mean by dis-ease is plain to the most ordinary comprehension, as the word itself carries its meaning with it.

A faulty organ in any part of a man's body must inevitably bring in its train a series of evils, and those evils will be proportionate to the importance of the organ or viscus affected, and every organ is important to a healthy existence Cornoro lived to an hundred and six after forty years of dissipation. He did so by an abandonment of the evils and vices which led to his former infirmity, and nearly every one can do what Cornoro did, and enjoy good health during the years ordinarily allotted to man. Dr. Fitch says that most persons could arrive at the age of an hundred years in good health, and undertakes to show how this may be done, in a work of over three hundred pages. Few men have done more in this country towards the cure of diseases of a consumptive character and tendency than he has.

We believe that Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP has, in thousands of instances hindered the development and manifestation of disease in the lungs, and in that way has done much good towards the relief and cure of suffering humanity. The Doctor has, however, another remedy, called LUNG CURE, for old and chronic cases, which he has used successfully in a large variety of pulmonary diseases. The Lung Cure is for chronic, and the Pectoral Syrup for recent cases, and it has in hundreds and thousands of instances of common coughs and colds, cured with less than one bottle. Mr. Marvin, who acquired such a high reputation as a manufacturer of crackers at 64 Fourth street, has purchased the establishment so long and so favorably known as Davis' Cracker Bakery, at 91 Liberty street, and has removed to this point. As a manufacturer of Water, Butter, and Sugar Crackers, Mr. Davis had for many years the highest reputation, which was continued by his sons, who succeeded him. His facilities for turning out good work excels any other house in Western Pennsylvania, and equals any house east or west. Mr. Marvin will continue the manufacture of the same article in the same way, and maintain their high reputation in every particular. Families who wish a prime article, should be careful to always ask at their groceries for the crackers manufactured by Mr. Marvin, at 91 Liberty street, Pittsburgh.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL ANNUAL CONFERENCE.

Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.

MASSILON, O., March 7, 1867.

Since my last, a large number of the members of the Conference, and also of visitors have arrived, and this morning the room was filled with a large and deeply interested audience—most of them, however, members of the Conference. The session was opened with religious services, conducted by Z. H. Coston. Mr. Coston was for many years a resident of your city, but has his home at present in Auburn, N. Y. He is a christian gentleman of the highest type, and highly esteemed wherever known.

Henry C. Beacom, Charles McCaslin, David A. Pierce, Joshua H. Conkle, James W. McGregor, William H. McBride, Daniel C. Knowles, John C. Cartie, and Franklin I. Swaney having served the regular two years' probation, were admitted into full connection and elected to Deacon's orders.

Joseph N. Pershing, James Mecham, Geo. Orbin, Thomas Patterson, William F. Smith, John W. Hamilton, James E. Starkey, and Charles W. Scott, probationers of one year, were examined, passed, and continued on trial.

Two or three local preachers were elected to Deacons and Elders order, and one minister received from the German Reformed, and another from the Evangelical Lutheran churches.

The Annual Reports of Sunday School Union and Tract Societies of the M. E. Church were presented, read to the Conference, and appropriately referred. Both these reports, especially that of the Sunday School Union, show these departments of the church's activities to be in a highly prosperous condition. Nearly a million children are gathered into the Sunday schools under the churches' care, and the yearly issue of Sunday School books and tracts amounts to millions of pages.

A memorial was presented from Christ Church, asking for a change in the plan adopted last year for the distribution of Conference funds, and referred to a committee of nine, appointed by the Chair.

Quite a lively discussion arose, and a great deal of humor was elicited, when the Conference was about to fix the place for the holding of its next session. Wellsville, O., Greensburg, Pa., Pennsylvania Avenue, in your city, Salem, O., Freeport, and New Brighton, were named. Greensburg was selected, on the first trial, by an overwhelming vote.

Last night there was religious service in the M. E. Church, and a Missionary meeting in the Presbyterian Church. The Missionary address was delivered by Rev. Albert L. Long, for nine years past a Missionary to Bulgaria. Mr. Long is at present in the employ of the American Bible Society, aiding in the publication of the Bible in the Bulgarian language. He is a splendid linguist and most ably represents the church in that field. His present residence is Constantinople. OLIN.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

BILL TO TAX COAL.

Immediately after the reading of the journal this morning, Mr. Waddell, of Chester, introduced a manuscript bill to tax all coal ten cents per ton.

This brought the Allegheny delegation to their feet at once. Speaker Glass left the chair and took a stand on the floor of the House. He denounced the bill as the most infamous one that was ever read to the Legislature. It would paralyze the entire coal trade west.

Ex-Mayor Wilson then rallied to Speaker Glass and opposed the bill.

Mr. Quay, of Beaver, moved to insert anthracite coal, and make it apply only to companies east of the mountains.

The Luzerne and Schuylkill members now stormed.

Messrs Chadwick, Colville and McKee all moved to postpone.

Mr. Waddell spoke against postponement and in favor of the bill, and it was only by great exertion that it was laid aside on the third reading.

The Virginia and Tennessee Railroad is badly damaged. Trains are all blockaded at this point. Bridges are swept away, and deep cuts filled with rocks and dirt. Two bridges on the East Tennessee and Virginia Railroad at Limestone Creek, and another at a point nearer Knoxville, are gone, and the road is otherwise badly injured. It also appropriates four million dollars of the sum due the state by the federal government for the payment of over due coupons in the order in which they matured on 1st of July, 1861. As fast as said money is received from the Government, the remaining over due coupons, estimated at two and a half millions, will be taken up and new State six per cent. bonds, bearing date January 1, 1868, issued for them. DETAILS OF THE MOVEMENTS.

Death of Artemus Ward.

[By the Cable.]

PARTICULARS OF THE FENIAN OUTBREAK.

LONDON, March 7—Evening.—Dispatches received during the day from Dublin and Cork give the following particulars of the last outbreak in Ireland:

A fight took place on Tuesday night at Taleaght, about eight miles south of Dublin, between armed police and a large body of Fenians. One of the latter was killed and five wounded. The police captured eighty prisoners and six loads of ammunition, and to dark to-day over two hundred prisoners were brought into Dublin. The main body of Fenians engaged in the fight retreated to the hills north of Dublin, with Lord Strathnairn, commander of the British forces in Ireland, in vigorous pursuit.

The police station at Killmore, nineteen miles south of Limerick, in the county Munster, was attacked by two hundred Fenians, who were repulsed, leaving three of their number dead on the field, and losing fourteen prisoners.

The barracks of the police at Dromore, county Down, in the North, had been fired by an incendiary, and totally destroyed.

The manager of the bank and the mounted police messenger had been shot in Dromore.

THE UPRISING GENERAL.

Reports from Dublin state that the Fenians appear well supplied with rations, and seem to have risen in all parts of Ireland. They attacked the coast guard stationed at Killegate, in the county of Clare, and took away their arms. Assaults have been made upon the stations at Caryfort, in Wicklow county, and that at Holly Cross, and supplied themselves with arms from all these places. The excitement in Tipperary is intense. General Gleason is reported there.

DUBLIN, March 7—Evening.—Thirteen prisoners in all were taken at Limerick. All was quiet in this city to-day, and reports from Cork, Limerick and Waterford represent no apparent signs of disturbance there.

RAILROAD TRAINS AGAIN RUNNING.

LONDON, March 7—Evening.—Lord Derby stated this evening that the railway trains were again running between Dublin and Cork.

DEATH OF ARTEMUS WARD.

PROCLAMATION OF THE IRISH REPUBLIC.

LONDON, March 8.—Noon.—The Irish and English papers have received and published a proclamation purporting to come from the government of the Irish Republic. It declares that after ages of outrage and appeal to reason and justice, they at last resolved to appeal to arms to rescue their lands from serfdom and establish national union, public safety and political freedom, and bring about the consequent separation of Church and State. As republicans, they appeal to republicans throughout the world for sympathy and support.

A body of Fenians, fifteen hundred strong, are reported threatening the town of Tipperary. The troops had a battle with a band of insurgents near Killanaine, County Limerick, and defeated them, killing one, wounding several, and taking thirty prisoners. Among the latter was the Fenian General Lance.

A force of rebels, some three hundred strong, were also beaten by the soldiers at Clonnel. Several of the former were killed, eighteen prisoners were taken and a quantity of arms captured.

The Fenians strip private houses of all guns and other weapons. Armed bands of men are moving through the counties of Clare, Tipperary and Limerick, and have frequent conflicts with police. A Doctor Cleary is reported killed at Killmack.

Incendiary fires are frequent in the city and county of Limerick.

IRISH AMERICANS ABUNDANT.

LONDON, March 8.—Evening.—The Irish correspondent of the London Times says Ireland is full of Irish Americans, and urges that severe punishment in their cases is imperatively necessary. But he adds that it is very difficult to apprehend them, for the people, though they give them no aid, refuse to betray them to the authorities. He states that Col. Dunn led the Irish in the attack on the Station at Killmallock. He concludes by saying that the present rising is considered a failure in Dublin.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE.

WASHINGTON, March 8, 1867.

PREPARING FOR EXECUTION.

The President and Cabinet are busily engaged in the necessary preparations for the execution of the Military Government bill.

PUBLIC LANDS AT AUCTION.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has instructed the district land officers at Menaska, Wisconsin, to proceed to Green Bay, on the 1st of May, and offer at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, vacant lots, seventy-two in number, in the late Fort Howard reserve. No minimum of price is affixed to the lots, but they are to be sold subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Interior. The Commissioner has just approved 12,117 acres of land to the State of Minnesota as school indemnity lands.

SOUTHERN DESTITUTION STATISTICS.

The statement of General Howard, Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, transmitted to the Senate by the Secretary of War, states that 32,622 white and 24,258 colored people in the South will need food from some source before the next crop can relieve them. The number of rations required for one month is 1,070,000; for five months, the probable time required, 8,535,000. At twenty-five cents per ration, the estimated cost will be $2,133,750. Of this $625,000 has already been appropriated, leaving $1,508,750 to be provided. The destitute are apportioned as follows: Virginia, 25,000 whites, 25,000 blacks; North Carolina, 3,000 whites, 2,000 blacks; South Carolina, 5,000 whites, 5,000 blacks; Alabama, 10,000 whites, 5,000 blacks; Florida, 500 whites, 10,000 blacks; Georgia, 75,000 whites, 500 blacks; Tennessee, 10,000 whites, 10,000 blacks; Mississippi, 1,862 whites, 2,038 blacks; Arkansas, 10,000 whites, 500 blacks; Louisiana, 300 whites, 200 blacks.

Since the report was drawn up a statement has been received from the Assistant Commissioner and Governor of Georgia, greatly exceeding the above amount, but a larger appropriation is not recommended for Georgia before another estimate shall be made, based on a thorough inspection.

NOMINATIONS BY THE PRESIDENT.

The President sent to the Senate a large number of nominations for various offices. Many of those which remained unacted on when the last Congress closed have been again communicated for confirmation. As there are at least five hundred vacancies, the rush of office seekers is very spirited.

APPOINTMENTS CONFIRMED.

John J. Knox, of the Treasury Department, has been appointed Deputy Comptroller of Currency, in place of H. R. Hulburd, recently commissioned by the President as Comptroller of Currency.

The Senate has confirmed as Postmasters, J. M. Hendrick, at Ottumwa, Iowa; Clarke Dunham, at Burlington, Iowa; J. Q. Monk, Watertown, Wis. Collectors Internal Revenue—Thomas Moonlight, Kansas; James Armstrong, Second District, Iowa; Gillet W. Stevenson, Fourth District, Indiana; W. W. Wilson, Sixth District, Ohio. Assessors Internal Revenue—Charles A. Harrington, Fourteenth District, Ohio; Joseph Bowman, First District, Indiana; Elias Wright, Eleventh District, Ohio; G. J. Bergen, Fifth District, Illinois; William B. Elliott, Third District, Pennsylvania.

NOMINATIONS REJECTED.

The Senate has rejected the following nominations: Postmasters—Charles A. Weisbro, Ashkosh, Wis.; Warren Barnhard, Independence, Iowa. Assessors Internal Revenue—J. W. Matthews, Fourth District Ohio.

FINANCIAL MATTERS.

A special says Mr. Price's resolution will be passed next week. If passed it will compel the sale of thirty millions of coin. In the Senate there is no disposition to touch the financial question at this time. Certain members will push, next week, a resolution to allow 50 per cent. of tariff duty to be paid in currency.

BONDS OF REVENUE INSPECTORS.

The new Internal Revenue law requires all Inspectors to give bond in the sum of five thousand dollars. Any Inspector, except those west of the Mississippi, who does not file a satisfactory bond with the Commissioner by April 1st, his office will be deemed vacated.

CONGRESS ADJOURNMENT.

According to present indications Congress will adjourn about a week hence until October.

REVISED BONDED WAREHOUSE REGULATIONS.

require goods which are to be transported in bond to be transferred from the warehouse to the place of shipment under the supervision of an officer, and require an officer to accompany spirits from the warehouse to the place of redistillation or rectification. The time for completing the transportion is reduced to thirty days, and for producing proof of delivery to fifteen days. The time for completing redistillation or rectification and the return is reduced to ten days in all cases. The application for withdrawal for rectification must be made by a duly taxed rectifier, who must also be a party to the bond.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE.

A fire to-night destroyed the building on the southeast corner of Penn'a. Avenue and Sixth street. The upper portion was formerly occupied as the Central Hotel. The lower stories were auction rooms of Lully & Bro., office of the Acqua Creek R. R. & Co., and the basement as a restaurant. The house was worth probably ten or twelve thousand dollars, on which there is an insurance. Six or seven persons, it is supposed, were killed by falling walls, some of them being engaged at the time in removing furniture from the adjoining house. Two dead bodies have already been discovered, one of them that of Mr. Murlerhaas, agent of the Germania Insurance Company. The digging and removal of ruins is going on at midnight to recover the other persons missing. It is supposed the fire was the work of an incendiary.

[Yesterday Evening Chronicle Specials.]

At the Cabinet meeting this afternoon the organization of the military commands under the late reconstruction act will be definitely settled, so far as the selection of the commanders of the district is concerned, and probably outlines of rules to govern the action of these commanders will be acted upon. These officers will doubtless be instructed to interfere as little as possible with the civil governments recognized by the reconstruction act.

The city is crowded with hungry office-hunters, who are very importunate. The President is appointing some Radical Republicans and a few Democrats.

One hundred and forty revenue offices are made vacant by rejection and cases held over, and over one hundred post offices, some of them very important, are in the same predicament.

The administration is devoting every moment possible to the remedy for this difficulty by selecting nominees for the vacancies. As the Senate has refused to adjourn with the House next week, because of the vast number of appointments to be examined, a Conference Committee will have to settle the matter, but it is probable that Congress will have to remain in session for some time to come. This is very gratifying to those who desire to have the impeachment question ahead.

All hope of a Tariff bill being formed before next winter is abandoned. It is said that the proposed Commission upon the subject will not be appointed.

Internal revenue receipts foot up a million a day now.

Private advices from the South show that the people will remain passive under the new reconstruction plan. Trouble is anticipated in every State, and some think that unless confiscation is threatened the people will not move in the matter.

Oyer and Terminer, &c.

Before Hon. James P. Sterrett.

This Court met at the usual hour, nine o'clock, Friday morning, and proceeded with the taken up Thursday afternoon. The indictment, it will be recollected, charges that Lutz, who is a deputized constable, was instrumental in securing the escape from punishment of one Zimmerman, accused of larceny by Charles Mugle, before Alderman Humbert, in April last, the defendant (Lutz) receiving as a consideration for his successful efforts the sum of fifty dollars and a revolver. Matthew Keep, also a constable, was the prosecutor.

The first witness called was Charles Cutler (for the defense,) who testified that Keep came to him last summer, in July, and in reply to a remark (of witness') why he, Lutz and the Alderman (Humbert,) did not settle their trouble, Keep said "he be d——d if he'd ever settle until they settled with him."

Mr. Miller now offered the Court record of Keep's conviction, in 1858, on charges of extortion—taking money to suppress liquor returns—to affect his credibility, which was ruled out. The defense then offered an indictment against Keep, found on oath of Lutz, at the June term, 1866, for extortion, and which had not yet been disposed of, to show bias on the part of Keep, as prosecutor in this case. It appeared that the information upon which the indictment was based, was made by Lutz but two or three days preceding the institution of the suit against him by Keep. The Court admitted the indictment for the purpose stated.

Patrick Pender, constable, who was partially examined Thursday afternoon, was called by the prosecution, but did not answer.

Alderman Humbert and Mugle were called to contradict the "convenient" witness, W. J. Craft, as to the statement that he saw money pass between Keep and the thief Zimmerman, at the Alderman's office. They saw no such "passing."

Mr. Swartzwelder stated that if it was admitted that Craft was present at the Alderman's office as the friend of Zimmerman, on the evening of his arrest, (Craft having so sworn,) he (Mr. S.) was prepared to prove by Mugle that Craft was a co-thief with Zimmerman in stealing articles from Mugle's house, for which Zimmerman was arrested. Objected to, because it was not rebutting. Objection sustained.

Mr. Swartzwelder stated that Mr. Keep had present quite a number of witnesses to testify to his character for truth, but as it had not been affected under the ruling of the Court as to the admission of the record, the witnesses were not required and were not called.

Mr. Miller first addressed the jury, and "went into" Keep in heavy style, claiming that he had been contradicted in two material points in his testimony, first, in having stated that Lutz gave the money to Alderman Humbert, saying, "here's fifty dollars for expenses," and second, in saying that he had not received fifty dollars or any other sum of money from Zimmerman. He had, in the first instance, been contradicted by Alderman Humbert, and, in the second, by the witness, Craft, who swore positively that he saw him (Keep) receive fifty dollars from Zimmerman, and heard him say that it was for the purpose of settling with Mugle. Mr. Miller contended that in point of fact, according to the testimony, Keep had received Zimmerman's money and was the guilty party.

Mr. Swartzwelder said that his friend Mr. Miller seemed to apprehend some personalities on the part of counsel representing the Commonwealth, relative to Lutz. He (Lutz) might rest easy on this point, as no man having a particle of self respect could descend to such an encounter or attempt to crush a venomous worm. From the testimony on both sides, the jury, as well as every one else, must be satisfied that a felony was compounded. The question was, did Lutz commit the offence? The theory of the defense was that Keep did it, and that therefore Lutz did not. Assuming that Keep took part in it, did that acquit Lutz? When "rogues fall out honest men come by their own" is an old and true adage. Keep sustained the Commonwealth. Craft bolstered up Lutz's defence. Could the jury believe him? He was fair of face and form and illustrative of his name, like a well executed counterfeit note well calculated to deceive. He was proved to have been the friend and companion of the thief, Zimmerman, and to have loaned him $50 to compound the felony. He was now the friend and witness of Lutz, the ——. Judge ye, gentlemen of the jury, whether he is to be relied on. It is a question of veracity between Keep and Craft.

The jury found a verdict of "not guilty," and directed that the costs be divided between Lutz and Keep, as defendant and prosecutor.

[We may add that there are six indictments pending against Lutz, two for barratry and four for extortion.]

ALDERMAN HUMBERT INDICTED.

It seems that the Grand Jury were induced from evidence adduced before them in the Lutz-Keep compounding felony case (above reported) to find an indictment against Alderman Humbert for misdemeanor in office, arising out of his alleged action in the case of Zimmerman, arrested on his warrant on the charge of larceny preferred by Mugle. It appears that Zimmerman was arrested April 16th, and committed for a hearing on the 18th, but that he was taken from prison by officer Lutz, on a "release" from the Alderman, on the 17th, and discharged. If the ends of justice are to be served, this case should be thoroughly investigated. Enough has already been elicited to produce the conviction that servants of the law have, under color thereof, so acted as to require that they should not only be deposed but punished for their transgression.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

David E. Hall was placed on trial on an indictment charging him with committing a felonious assault and battery upon William J. Robinson, in July, 1866. A difficulty occurred between the parties and others at the saloon of Felix Lafferty, during which Robinson was dangerously stabbed in the side, by Hall, as alleged. The dispute or difficulty arose out of an old grudge concerning Neptune Fire Company matters, the prosecutor being the successor of the defendant as captain of that organization. The evidence showed beyond a doubt that Robinson was cut during the affray, and it was also claimed that Robinson was engaged with no other one than Hall; also, that immediately after they separated, and before they were more than a yard apart, Robinson exclaimed that he was cut. The witnesses for the Commonwealth were called by the defense and testified that they saw no knife in the hands of Hall, nor could they say, not even the prosecutor himself, who did the cutting. Colonel Duff, the District Attorney, in his address to the jury, remarked that the Commonwealth witnesses seemed to be quite as friendly to the defence, perhaps even more so. Verdict not guilty.

NO VERDICT IN THE PIG CASE.

The jury in the case of M. G. Curry (colored) indicted for the larceny of four pigs from Philip Daly, was unable to agree, after being out all of Thursday night, and were discharged.

DESERTED HIS WIFE.

A young looking woman, with a large sized baby for its apparent age, appeared in Court yesterday, claiming that her husband, William Kent, had deserted her in Canada, and that she came hither in search of him. Finding him domiciled in Birmingham with "another," she procured his arrest. He was brought from prison, and being interrogated by the Court, said that he had never refused to support his wife. He was then asked why he deserted her and took "another." This question, for an apparent reason, he declined answering. He was remanded for further consideration.

Badly Beaten.

Geo. Oxley, of Lower St. Clair township, made information before Alderman McMasters yesterday, charging John Schucke, a tavern-keeper in the township, and two of his boarders, named Geo. Link and Jacob Hanneh n, with assault and battery with intent to kill. The deponent states that on the night of the 9th of August last he had been drinking with a party at Schucke's tavern, and started out to go home, when Schucke attacked him with an axe, and the other two with billets of wood, and beat him about the head and body until he was insensible. His injuries were so severe that he was unable to come out to make the information until yesterday. His wife, Alice, made information against Schucke for selling liquor on Sunday, and for selling liquor to minors. Officers Hague and Wilmont arrested the accused, and they were all held for a hearing on Monday afternoon at two o'clock.

Pocket Book Stolen.

Yesterday morning, at about ten o'clock, a lady named Maria McCallam, residing in Manchester, was in Arthur Kirk's store, on Federal street, in the Third ward, Allegheny, making some purchases, and as she started out, she missed her pocket-book, containing five dollars and thirty cents. A woman named Barbara Rahm, a resident of the Third ward, who had been standing beside Mrs. McCallam, was observed leaving the store very hastily, and suspicion at once fixed upon her. Information against Mrs. Rahm was made before the Mayor, and Chief Long soon after arrested her. She denied very stoutly all knowledge of the affair, and on searching her the money was not found in her pocket. On continuing the search, however, the stolen pocket-book was found up her sleeve, where she had hidden it. She was taken before the Mayor and held to bail for a hearing.

William Semple's Dry Goods Establishment, No.'s 180 and 182 Federal Street, Allegheny.

Few readers, either in Pittsburgh or Allegheny, are unacquainted with the extensive Wholesale and Retail dry goods house of Mr. William Semple, No.'s 182 and 184 Federal street, Allegheny city. It is, perhaps, within the recollection of the majority of persons, when all or the larger share of the trade of our sister city, was drawn to this side of the river, and but little was retained at home. There never existed any good reason why Pittsburgh should monopolize to the loss and exclusion of the Allegheny merchants, this trade, especially the retail patronage, which flowed in upon them. Rents were, as a general rule, and are now, cheaper in Allegheny than in her more opulent contemporary city, Pittsburgh, and there were no good reasons why a friendly rival and competition should not spring up between the neighboring merchants.

Mr. Semple, with other now prominent and wealthy business men, became, as it were, pioneers in the work of building up a home or local trade in Allegheny. Few have forgotten Mr. Semple's first store. It was small, the stock was smaller, and the patronage first awarded smallest. This was some thirteen years ago; but in a brief space of time marvellous advancement can be made in building up patronage, trade, character and reputation for a well conducted house. Slowly the purchasing community of Allegheny found it to its own pecuniary advantages to purchase some things at Semple's, and this led to inquiry which resulted in folks finding that the Allegheny store could in all things successfully compete with Pittsburgh establishments. Trade increased rapidly, the stocks grew larger and larger, till to-day it will compare with any found in our own princely establishments. There was a business secret worth telling and knowing in the prosperity of this house. Mr. Semple advertised judiciously, promised no throwing away of goods at ruinous prices, or of unusual facilities by which he could undersell his neighbors. None of these shrewd dodges to catch trade were indulged in, but he did promise to sell goods at most reasonable prices, and earnestly assured all that his goods were that which he represented them to be, and that his customers could confidently rely upon getting the full return for their purchase money. Hence trade attracted was sure to be retained; and hence the popularity of his house not only in Allegheny but with Pittsburgh shoppers, dealers and country merchants. Visit, at any hour of the day, the salesrooms, and you will find them thronged with purchasers, and all the numerous clerks and employees busily engaged with trade. This constant attendance of patrons from both cities and the surrounding neighborhoods, tells in much plainer language than we could put it, of the popularity of the house and the extent of the trade transacted.

On Friday we looked through the stock, as Mr. Semple had just returned from the East where he made very extensive purchases for cash, (the purchasing of the house is done exclusively with cash) and were much pleased with the variety and general attraction. The first floor, combining two store rooms, is the retail department, where all styles and descriptions of dry goods and general attendant notions are kept. This floor is daily crowded with purchasers, but by system all get waited upon in due season and without delay. The basement underneath is fitted up as a wholesale department, and is stocked with bales and packages of all the popular trade marked brands of sheeting, muslins, flannels, tickings, furniture check goods, prints, table linens and all descriptions of dry goods, in and out of original packages and bales. These are sold to dealers and jobbed to country merchants. A peculiarity is that goods in package or by the piece, are sold to retail customers at wholesale prices, so that a lady can order a whole piece of goods which may please her, and obtain the great advantage in price. In the second floor, above the retail department, is another wholesale department where a different description of goods from those found in the basement are offered the trade. Here we found an extensive stock of cassimeres, cloths, water-proof coatings, delaines, chintzes, (double width) English windsors, Alpaccas, &c., &c. All of these goods are marked down at the lowest possible marginal prices and are the latest styles and patterns introduced. The delaines are sold at as low prices as ever ranged at gold rates. We observed many novelties and beauties in the way of Spring balmorals, which are sold retail at much reduced rates from those which prevailed last season. Wool socks, ribbed hose for ladies, full lines of hosiery, white goods, handkerchiefs, ladies' imported paper collars, nainsooks, jaconetts, velvet ribbons and notions generally are also kept here in profusion. We had almost forgot to enumerate rich and elegant as well as plain and comely shawls and silk dress patterns. In these certainly great bargains are offered, and the selection offered should please either a haughty queen or an humble peasant girl. Everything in the dry goods line is kept in great assortment, and while we might say much, we shall say little regarding the extent of the stock and range of prices, for all should call and ascertain these matters for themselves. Allegheny has reason to be proud of this establishment, where business is so largely and so systematically conducted. We invite dealers and our lady readers to favor Mr. Semple's store with a call upon their shopping excursions.

Death From Exposure.

At an early hour yesterday morning, as Mr. Michael Theiker, proprietor of the Union Brewery, near Soho Bridge, in Pitt township, was going with some of his workmen to the brewery, they discovered a woman lying inside the yard gate in a corner. They went to her and discovered her to be a stranger, dressed scantily in the meanest rags. She was insensible and apparently in a dying condition, frothing at the mouth very considerably. Her clothing, what little there was of it, was disarranged so as to leave her almost naked. She was removed into the brewery and placed on a bed, hastily made up on the floor. Geo. Fortune, Esq., Overseer of the Poor was notified, and sent his assistant, J. B. Williams, Esq., with a wagon, to remove the woman to a hospital. When he reached the brewery the woman was dead. Alderman McMasters, in the absence of the Coroner, was called to hold an inquest on the remains. He impannelled a jury and summoned Dr. Arthurs, who, after a thorough examination, testified that no marks of violence were visible on her body. No person knew who the woman was, and not the slighest clue to her identity could be obtained. She had not spoken after being found. A verdict of death from exposure was rendered. The deceased was apparently a German, and seemed to be forty-five or fifty years old.

New House, New Goods.

The many friends of Mr. William H. Miller, (for a number of years with the trimming house of Eaton, Macrum & Co., and more recently with Eaton's,) will be pleased to learn that he has leased the first class store room at No. 64 Market street, where he will open a trimming house upon his own account, on or after April 1st next. Mr. Miller we know, from long association in business, to be a young man of rare qualifications to please, and great good taste and abilities as a business man. He will start under most favorable auspices, and will open an immense stock of goods suitable for city trade, which he proposes selling at very reasonable prices. We wish him success in his undertaking and feel quite certain that he will secure a large share of the public patronage. We shall give further notice of the opening of his store.

Tom. Hughes in Limbo.

John Demgledein, residing in this city, made information at the Mayor's office, charging Thos. Hughes, of criminal notoriety, with felonious assault and battery. He alleges that, at a late hour on Tuesday evening he was passing along St. Clair street, when he was wantonly attacked by Hughes, who beat him very severely. A warrant was issued, and yesterday afternoon officers Dresser and McMullen arrested the accused at the Red Lion Hotel, and locked him up. Hughes says he was drunk at the time, or would not have done as he did. The reason of the attack is, as he states, the fact that the accused insulted himself and his sister in a street car on Monday night.

False Pretence.

W. T. Wiley came before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, and charged John Cridland with obtaining property under false pretences. The deponent lives at East Liberty, and the defendent is an employee at the Eastern Exchange. It is alleged that Cridland had obtained a watch worth twenty dollars, from Wiley, representing that he had worked for Mr. Barker, and the latter owed him money. It turned out that instead of being Mr. Barker's creditor, he was his debtor. Yesterday he was about to be committed to jail for trial, when he reluctantly drew out twenty dollars, paid for the watch, and the suit was withdrawn.

Fenian Lecture.—During the recent Fenian Congress we remember to have been delighted with a speech by Senator (Fenian) A. L. Morrison, of Missouri. His language was well chosen, argumentative and eloquent, while his delivery was faultless. He lectures to-night at City Hall upon Ireland's wrongs, and will, in all probability, be greeted by an overwhelming audience.

The Matrimonially inclined should order a dozen of those perfect fitting FRENCH YOKE shirts at Murdock & Putnam's, 72 Fifth street.

Rare Chance.—A rare chance is offered to any one wishing to buy a home, in to-day's paper.

The Fourth Letter

From the pen of Dr. Robert Hunter appears in our columns to-day. The subject of this letter is Chronic Consumption, and certainly none more important can engage the most intense thoughts of a medical man, or should excite greater interest among mortal readers. Pulmonary Consumption has heretofore been the admitted "odium" of the medical profession; and as a natural consequence, the terror of the people. For if medical men have contended there was no cure. Under these circumstances Dr. Hunter brings forward his views as to the nature, causes and effective treatment of Consumption in a manner so original, so energetic and so practical as to startle those who have hitherto held to old-fashioned ideas, and to infuse new hopes into the minds of the doomed. As a very wonderful endorsement of the result of Dr. Hunter's views, the City Inspector's Reports of New York show a diminution of over thirty-one per cent. in the mortality from Consumption in that city in three years after Dr. Hunter first introduced his system there, and at time when his practice had assumed enormous proportions. Facts like these cannot be refuted, while to the humane they are most gratifying.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

SATURDAY, MARCH 9, 1867.

CONGRESS will not adjourn on Monday, the Senate being unable to dispose of the Executive nominations by that time.

A CLEAR MAJORITY of the Republican members of the House are favorable to proceeding with the impeachment of the President. On the part of the new members the feeling is particularly strong. Whether it is wise or foolish to proceed in this business depends upon the facts elicited and the nature of the evidence by which those facts can be sustained. If an undoubted case can be made out against the President, and on evidence that shall satisfy public opinion, then there should be as little delay as practicable. But if the only case that can be made out is one that fair-minded people will differ about, the sooner it shall be dropped, the better. The Republican members of the Senate seem opposed to the impeachment job.

BEFORE the last election in this State the Republican party committed itself unreservedly to the policy of establishing freedom in Railroad Building. It did this in obedience to popular demand, and with the understanding that it would be beaten in the pending election if it did not.

In fulfillment of this pledge, the Senate has passed what is entitled a Free Railroad Bill. It might more properly be called a Bill to Hinder the Construction of Railroads. It makes stockholders individually liable, demands an actual subscription of fifteen thousand dollars per mile, and the payment of ten per cent. thereon, before a company can be organized, besides other provisions that cannot be found in any charter granted by the Legislature. Every Senator who voted for this bill, professing to be in favor of Freedom in Railroad Building, is guilty of fraud and hypocrisy. The pretension is rank dishonesty.

So far, the Republican party stands dishonored. It pledged its word; and has broken it. The circumstances indicate that when the pledge was given it was not the intention to keep it. A swindle was designed; and a swindle has been consummated, so far as the Senate has power.

GOVERNMENT BY FORCE.

The events of nearly two years have demonstrated that when the aggressive power of the Rebellion was broken, the national authorities made a great mistake in not holding the revolted communities under military government until all the measures essential to a just and beneficient reconstruction had been fully determined upon; and until they had been adopted in manifest good faith by the States and People who were arrayed against the Union. This would have been following the line of safe precedents commonly pursued by governments under analagous circumstances. Nor would the inhabitants of the South have complained. They were in a frame of mind to anticipate if not acquiesce in the measure. They understood perfectly that treason had been committed on a gigantic scale, and that it involved forfeitures. With their local laws left intact, except so far as they were inconsistent with the Proclamation of Emancipation, and the newly recovered rights of the black under it; with the courts and all the minor details of civil administration left in regular operation; a temporary military government was exactly suited to their case.

It was adapted to repress that spirit of treason which has since found expression in all manner of outrages against white and black loyalists, as individuals, because it was unsafe and impracticable to strike the government itself. The existence of these outrages was at first denied, but they became so numerous and defiant, and were attested by such a cloud of witnesses, that concealment or denial became impossible. Nor would the good consequences have been apparent only in this direction. Held in a firm grasp, there would have been no caviling about terms of reconstruction. Whatever conditions the government judged proper to prescribe would have been accepted, and before now the great controversy would have been adjusted, by the readmission of the ten seceding States to equal participation in all national concerns.

This view is sustained by the readiness with which the Southern people at first met all the demands on them by the President, under the supposition that he was acting in accordance with popular Northern sentiment. It was only when the President repudiating the principles and policy he had enforced, went over to the side of the rebels, and menaced Congress, that a different temper was evinced.

Congress has at last done what ought to have been done upon the surrender of the rebel armies. Already the good effects of the Military Government Act are apparent. It has brought the Southern people to their senses. They understand what they have to do, and who of them are to do it. There will be little delay in complying with the demands made upon them. By December all the States will be again represented in Congress, and on a basis compatible with the public safety.

THE WEST.

At the East, even among the advocates of Free Trade, the feeling against irredeemable Paper Money, is constant and strong. The prevalent opinion is that the only financial security consists in working gradually but certainly back to specie payments. This is a natural and inevitable corrollory from the principle that when a man fails to meet his business engagements, he is a bankrupt, and ought, unless the hitch is temporary and susceptible of satisfactory adjustment, to go into liquidation. This is one of the direct outgrowths of the commercial spirit, and one of its best. Obligations are to be fulfilled, and he who does not come to time is discredited.

At the West, another habit is disclosed. A strong desire is evinced to maintain the era of unredeemed pledges—of broken promises. The feeling is almost universally in favor of more irredeemable Paper Money. Having been lifted out of debt by that quickening of home industry which was the fruit of a Protective Tariff, they transfer the credit to the redundant paper currency which was coincident therewith, and made payment still easier—for obligations contracted on a gold basis were cancelled, greatly to the prejudice of creditors, with paper promises, while gold was away above two hundred.

It would naturally be inferred that the people of the west, after being the victims of all manner of wild-cat banking for thirty years, would take a sense of insecurity from a currency not convertible into coin except at ruinous rates; but their conduct tends to disprove the adage that "burnt children dread the fire." They are altogether impatient of any contraction which looks like getting down to a specie bottom; much preferring a still further inflation, under the plea that the currency is not redundant whatever the premium on gold may indicate the contrary.

Nor is this the only mischievous idiosyncrasy they indulge. When clamoring for more paper promises, made to be broken, they are just as vehement in their demands for lessened impost duties on foreign goods, wares and merchandize. Gold does not leave the country fast enough to suit them. The commercial balance against us, aggravated by the export of national and corporate bonds, does not put sufficiently far off the period of resumption, nor accelerate as rapidly as they desire the era of general bankruptcy. If the manufacturing interest could be broken down, and so the commercial balance against us be doubled, they would be filled with immediate contentment. Wild-cat would be supreme for the life-time of a full generation.

To us it seems marvelous that the western people do not see that the only safe course lies in such an adjustment of our various industries as shall cause a balance to set in our favor, from other nations, and such a contraction of the volume of paper currency as shall conduct back to a specie basis. Any other policy than this must certainly lead to a financial explosion, all the direful consequences of which it is not easy to depict.

HON. WILSON M'CANDLESS.

It will be gratifying to the numerous friends of the Hon. Wilson McCandless, judge of the United States District Court for Western Pennsylvania, to know that under a provision contained in the general Appropriation bill, lately passed in Congress, he is included in a class of Judges whose salaries heretofore only was $2,500, have been increased to $4,000.

During Judge McCandless's incumbency, heavy and onerous additional duties have been imposed on him and nothing added to his salary. He has faithfully, with dignity and ability, and great acceptance to the people discharged all the duties of his high and responsible position, and we are right glad that at last, a salary somewhat adequate to his merits, and the importance of the office is to be given him. Congress should have discharged this duty years ago.

CHARLES F. BROWNE, better known as "ARTEMUS WARD," died at Southampton, England, on Thursday last. Perhaps no writer will be missed more in America, for his peculiar, if not strictly humorous, productions, were eagerly read and sought after by all classes of readers. He did not write so much for glory as for gain, and dying has left a large competence. Consumption, hurried on by rapid living, laid the immortal showman to rest.

For the Pittsburgh Gazette.

IMPEACHMENT AND RECONSTUCTION.

No one of competent ability, who, without prejudice, has reflected upon the obstacles cast in the way of Congress by the acting President, for reconstructing the Government, but must, ere now, be fully persuaded that these two important measures are correlative, and must be prosecuted "shoulder to shoulder." It is a slanderous imputation, a "lie out of whole cloth" that the loyal masses of the nation look upon the former with disfavor. The question of impeachment was held in full view of the people throughout the entire canvass, for Representatives in Congress last autumn, and the hope was rife in their heart that Andrew Johnson, the greatest unpunished culprit in the nation, would be brought to judgment, before the Senate of the United States, under articles of impeachment preferred by the House of Representatives, the "grand jury of the nation." But, it seems, the 39th Congress, now about to expire, has been inspired with no effective courage to meet the question of arraigning the conspicuous criminal who, by the murder of his predecessor, has been invested with Executive power. How long, Lord! how long shall this perjured conspirator and usurper insult the majesty of the Constitution and laws of the United States. The Parliament of England, under an unwritten constitution and almost absolute monarchy, feared not to bring the head of Charles I. to the block, and shall the present and incoming Congress not dare to meet this only remaining test, of the self-sustaining capacity of the Constitution and vitality of the Government? The enduring valor and self-sacrificing devotion of the Revolutionary army tore assunder the chains of bondage and emancipated us from the Monarchy of England. Our fathers in the great council of the nation gave us a Constitution, provided the necessary laws, and fixed the limits, beyond which aggressions from the majesty of the Government proves the private citizen to the highest possible functionary, not even excepting the President should dare to transgress, and who, with the robes of office may be brought to justice and judgment for crimes and misdemeanors.

The first defiant and open resistance after Shay's futile rebellion, if it can be dignified with that term, assumed form and substance by insurrectionary movements in Western Pennsylvania, called the Whiskey Insurrection to this day.

Promptly then did Congress provide for the emergency by calling out adequate forces for its suppression, under the immediate command of our great deliverer, General Washington, who, in person, conducted their march to Bedford, Pennsylvania, in 1794, taking their "winter quarters" in Pittsburgh and the borders of Washington county, the chief locality of this treasonable outbreak, when the insurgents dispersed, their leader, Bradford, fleeing to Florida and Louisiana, then under the yoke of Spain, and never returned, their failure complete and emphatic. No event of that type occurred until the period of Nullification when that prolific mother of mischief, South Carolina, sounded the tocsin of revolt, speedily suppressed by the thunder of Jackson's menacing proclamation that the "Union should be preserved," when Nullification expired, and restored the nation to peaceful composure, until Secession raised its hideous front, carrying with it ten States, and pretending to establish a separate government, whose corner-stone was to be slavery, with all its horrors, to whose conquest and subjugation we are living witnesses, though at the cost of oceans of precious blood and treasure. Thus has this paternal government, surviving these several assaults upon its integrity and power of resisting the machinations of the treacherous and evil, vindicated the object of its creation. Yet one great test of its stability remains, the danger of executive power and influence, the craving of unhallowed ambition on the part of a Chief Magistrate, in a season of supineness, seizing the reins and enter control of our government, reducing us again to monarchical bondage.

Have not the period and occasion arisen in the malfeasances of Andrew Johnson to try this last test and moral power of the Government? or will the Fortieth Congress, as the Thirty-ninth, slunk home to their constituents under cover of inexpediency, or such paltry excuses as they may invent to satisfy an insulted and disappointed constituency, in omitting to bring this offender against the high claims of the great office into which, in the inscrutable ways of Providence, he has been inducted by an assassin's hand, in the death of the martyred Lincoln? Take courage, ye men of the Fortieth Congress, from the example of brave old Thad. Stevens and Ben Wade, and fear not that the people will direct you in such an emergency as you are now called upon emphatically to meet. Pending the term of the present acting President, we have but little hope of an adequate reconstruction measure being carried into effective operation. Has this man Johnson—the highest functionary of the Government—rendered himself liable to impeachment? Why not, then, put him on trial before the constitutional jury, the Senate of the United States—acquitted if innocent—and this vexed question settled by the highest judicial authority recognized by our institutions?

BISMARK.

—Mr. Toombs, ex-United States Senators, and ex-rebel General, has returned to Georgia from a self-imposed exile. From the manner in which the Atlanta Intelligencer speaks of his return, we infer that he was more afraid of his fellow-citizens in Georgia than of the Federal Government. His return seems to have been kept secret as long as possible. The Intelligencer makes a pathetic appeal to its readers not to rebuke him. This is the same Mr. Toombs who is reported to have said, several years ago, that he would call the roll of his slaves at the foot of Bunker Hill. The Atlantic Opinion does not see why he ever felt it necessary to leave the country to escape the Federal power. "Whilst it is true," it argues, "that he did more to procure secession than any other man in the State, it is likewise true that after secession was accomplished he did less than any other man to sustain the revolution he had wrought."

—It has been ascertained that of the population of Cleveland 36 per cent. are German, 29 per cent. American, 19 per cent. Irish, 9 per cent. English, 2 per cent. Bohemians, 1 per cent. each Scotch, French and Dutch, and the remaining 2 per cent. divided among sixteen other nationalities.

—It is said that there are in Maine 14,000,000 acres of unbroken forest, of which 5,000,000 is covered with hemlock timber. Somebody estimates that this latter area would yield 100,000,000 cords of hemlock bark, of which the extract for tanning purposes would be worth in the market $1,600,000,000.

SPREAD THE TRUTH.

Some medical men insist that it is undignified to advertise a remedy, however valuable it may be. Queer reasoning this. It is like saying that an article which the world needs should be hid in a corner—that benefits and blessings may be too widely diffused—that the means of protecting and restoring health should be a loose monopoly, and not accessible to all. The argument is bad. It is worse than that: it is inhuman. Suppose HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—an absolute specific for dyspepsia, biliousness and nervous debility—had never been known beyond the repertories of the faculty what would have been the consequence? Just all of curing and invigorating millions, the good effects of the preparation would have been confined to a comparative few. There is the highest authority for saying that light should not be hid under a bushel, but whatever is excellent should be placed as a city on a hill, where all men can take cognizance of it. It is upon this principle that the BITTERS have been advertised and continue to be advertised in every newspaper of any prominence in the western hemisphere, and that the spontaneous testimonials in its favor have been translated into all written languages. Thousands enjoy perfect health to-day who would be languishing on beds of sickness if newspapers had not spread the truth with regard to this unequaled invigorant and corrective. Suppose profit has been reaped from this publicity, is that any argument against it? If the public health has been protected, if lives have been saved; if the feeble have been strengthened and the sick restored, great good has been accomplished; and who so mean as to [illegible] exertions thus directed their fa [illegible] mh6

THE HONEY OF WHITE PINE.

With that indomitable [illegible] skill and genius peculiar to the people of New England, and worthy of the instinct of the honey-bee only, Dr. GEORGE W. SWETT, of Boston, has compounded a medicine out of the sweet inside bark of the white pine tree, which has a wide reputation in a large variety of diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and mucous surfaces and membranes generally, called "WHITE PINE COMPOUND."

Dr. SWETT says that it is sweet and palatable, and is readily taken both by children and adults, and was originally known to the aborigines, who so named the forests of those States, and used it in a variety of diseases, especially those of scorbutic character. It is a sure cure for DIABETES, GRAVEL, ENURESIS, BLOODY AND MUCOUS URINE, and the troublesome malady known as albuminurea, or Bright's disease. Those who have tried in vain the various Buchus and diuretics, will find in Poland's White Pine Compound a remedy of superior efficacy and power.

AMERICAN

WALTHAM WATCHES.

I.—We claim, and are prepared to prove, that the American Watches, manufactured at Waltham, Massachusetts, are not only equal, but far superior to the common watches of England, Switzerland and France.

II.—While we admit that it would be difficult to excel the masterpieces of the eminent European manufacturers, and while we do not claim to have made any decisive improvements over them, we do assert and challenge a successful denial, that our superior class of watches are fully equal, in every respect, to the most expensive specimens of foreign chronometrical art.

III.—We claim that our watches are cheaper, more accurate, less complex, more durable, better adapted for American use, and more easily kept in order and repaired than any other watches in the market.

IV.—The reasons why our watches possess these advantages over their European rivals are chiefly:

First, Because the principle of the division of labor is carried out in our workshops to its extremest limits, not in human industry only, but in machinery as well. Every watch passes through hundreds of hands and hundreds of machines.

Second, Because we promptly adopt every new invention to perfect on machinery, and every preferred improvement in the structure of watches.

Third, Because in each of the very numerous, minute, and often microscopic parts of which a watch is made up, we attain, by mechanical power, nearly absolute mathematical precision and uniformity, which it is utterly impossible to achieve by manual labor. Wheels, plates, escapements, balances, springs and screws—exact counterparts in weight, circumference and dimensions—are turned out by millions by the unerring because unswerving, iron hands of machinery. Hence, every watch of any one style is a true copy of its model.

V.—These results enable us to defy foreign rivalry, because no similar uniformity and precision is attainable by hand, and because in Waltham alone is machinery exclusively employed in the manufacture of this intricate and delicate mechanism.

VI.—Now, as will be seen at once, this similarity in structure reduces the cost of production; it secures uniformity in results: it perpetuates and infallibly diffuses any excellence that may be once achieved; and makes it easy to repair any injury sustained, or replace any part that may be lost or destroyed.

VII.—In addition to these mechanical advantages, our Watches are simpler in structure, and therefore stronger, and less likely to be injured than the majority of foreign watches. They are composed of from 125 to 300 pieces. In an old English watch there are more than 700 parts.

VIII.—We began our experiment in 1852, in the face of a formidable prejudice against American watches. Our system was new and untried. We have steadily increased our facilities, until now we employ over 700 artisans, and sell 70,000 watches a year. Nearly a quarter of a million of our watches are in use to-day in every State of the Union, as well as in the Mexican and British Provinces and Colonies. Their universal popularity is the best proof of their merit that we can produce. They have won their way in spite of of every opposition and of immemorial prejudices. Hundreds of dealers all over the country have expressed their preference for our products after a long and practical experience with foreign watches.

Any of the grades of Waltham watches may be purchased of watch dealers generally throughout the country.

LARGE SALE OF

KANSAS LANDS,

ON TUESDAY, THE 2d DAY OF APRIL, 1867, will be offered

AT PUBLIC SALE,

At the Eldridge House,

IN THE CITY OF

Lawrence, Kansas,

ABOUT 155,000 ACRES OF LAND,

Situate in the Counties of LEAVENWORTH, WYANDOTTE, JEFFERSON and DOUGLASS, and known as the

"Delaware Reserve."

These lands are directly on the main line of the UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY, EASTERN DIVISION.

The Branch of the same ROAD FROM LEAVENWORTH TO LAWRENCE PASSES THROUGH THEM, and the railroad from St. Louis to Leavenworth runs along their eastern border.

IN FERTILITY, LOCATION AND ABUNDANCE OF TIMBER AND WATER, these lands are the FINEST IN THE STATE.

By the treaty with the Delawares in 1860 the Indian title to the "Reserve" was extinguished, and since that date many farms have been improved, and churches, school houses, grist and saw mills erected, and many other improvements made there in.

The climate of Kansas is remarkably healthy, and to farmers and settlers these lands offer

Greater Inducements than any Others in the West.

Also, at the same place, immediately after the disposition of the above lands, will be sold about

28,000 ACRES OF LAND,

Situate in the Southeastern part of the "SAC AND FOX RESERVE," in the county of Franklin, Kansas.

Also, a large number of TOWN LOTS AND BLOCKS in the towns of NORTH LAWRENCE, TONGANOXIE and PERRY.

The sale will commence on April 2d, 1867, and will continue from day to day until all the lands above named have been disposed of. The lands will be offered in tracts to suit purchasers.

TERMS OF SALE—One-third cash and balance in two equal annual payments, with 6 per cent. interest thereon from date of purchase.

Suicide.

The Canton (O.) Republican says: Our city was thrown into a state of intense excitement on Thursday last, by the horrifying news that Westley Tonner, of San Jose, California, who has for some months been visiting his friends in this place, had taken his life, on the premises of his brother James, on Poplar street. The deceased was last seen alive by members of his brother's family just before noon. He was then with his little nephew in the house yard, and was whittling a stick. At a few minutes before twelve o'clock M. he left the yard and proceeded to the stable, where about five minutes after twelve, he was found weltering in his own blood, and quite dead; having severed the main arteries in his neck, with a razor which was found in his hand. His hat, collar and neck-tie had been taken off and placed on a barrel near by.

The cause of this tragedy was insanity. For a number of years Mr. Tonner had been suffering from disease which had affected both mind and body to such an extent that physicians, in California, advised a trip to the States, entertaining the hope that it might be beneficial to him. Since his arrival, his condition has been truly pitiable. His bodily health in such condition as to render him miserable beyond description, and his mind so enfeebled that he was incapable of taking care of himself, a fact so forcibly of demonstrated by his last terrible act.

The Fourth Letter

From the pen of Dr. Robert Hunter appears in our columns to-day. The subject of this letter is Chronic Consumption, and certainly none more important can engage the most intense thoughts of a medical man, or should excite greater interest among mortal readers. Pulmonary Consumption has heretofore been the admitted "odium" of the medical profession; and as a natural consequence, the terror of the people. For it medical men have contended there was no cure. Under these circumstances Dr. Hunter brings forward his views as to the nature, causes and effective treatment of Consumption in a manner so original, so energetic and so practical as to startle those who have hitherto held to old-fashioned ideas, and to infuse new hopes into the minds of the doomed. As a very wonderful endorsement of the result of Dr. Hunter's views, the City Inspector's Reports of New York show a dimunition of over thirty-one per cent. in the mortality from Consumption in that city in three years after Dr. Hunter first introduced his system there, and at time when his practice had assumed enormous proportions. Facts like these cannot be refuted, while to the humane they are most gratifying.

Distressing.

The Blairsville Press contains the following distressing account: On Saturday last two daughters of Nathaniel Sabins, of Blacklick tp, this county, were badly burned by the explosion of an oil lamp. We have been furnished the following particulars: Miss —— Sabins, who works in this place, had gone home to spend the Sabbath, and while fixing the wick of a lamp, fire was conveyed to the oil causing an explosion. The exploded lamp fell on a can of oil directly beneath it, which also ignited and exploded, filling the room with fire. The young ladies, (there being two daughters at home) endeavored to extinguish the flames and save their father, who is very old and infirm. The screams brought several men to the scene who extinguished the fire. The young ladies were badly burned. The one who works in town and who supports her father and sister by her needle, it is feared will lose an eye. The entire contents of the room were destroyed. A collection was taken up by some of our charitable citizens for their benefit. This is a very distressing case, and one that appeals loudly to the sympathies of the community.

Accused of Robbing the Mail.

From the Columbus Journal we take the following: Some three months since it was discovered that some one upon the line of the P. C. & C. Railroad was tampering with the mails. One morning officer Brooke discovered in the vicinity of the depot at this place, a number of letters torn open. This gave the first clue, and the Government detectives commenced working up the case. Some time since the mail bag on the baggage car in charge of Mr. Charles Meeker, of Newark, was represented to have been accidentally burned, and other things happening in connection therewith, led to the issuing of a warrant by United States Commissioner Halliday for the arrest of Meeker. He was arrested at the depot in this city on Monday by Marshal Rankin, of Newark, and officer Brooke, and placed in the county jail. He was taken on Tuesday night to Cincinnati, to await examination before Commissioner Halliday at Cincinnati. Meeker is a young man who has hitherto borne a good character.

An Insolent Demand by a German Beggar.

The Reading Dispatch says: Yesterday afternoon, about five o'clock, a German tramper entered the store of one of our business men in Sixth street, near Walnut, and demanded from the proprietor two dollars, wherewith to buy liquor. The gentleman refused so uncommon a demand; and told the rascal that he thought it rather queer that he should demand the money and set his price too. At this the scoundrel attempted to use violence towards the proprietor of the store, but he mistook his man, for a huge hammer was displayed before the Dutchman's gaze, which had the effect of cooling off his temper a little. He went out the door muttering all sorts of vengeance against the proprietor, promising to pay him off for refusing his demand.

Cutting Affray.—We take the following from the Reading Dispatch: "Last night about 11 o'clock a cutting affray took place at the corner of Seventh and Penn streets, between two men who were partially intoxicated, resulting in one being cut very seriously in the cheek with a dirk. The only particulars we could ascertain were that the two men walked up Penn street, carrying on a loud conversation, and when they reached the above named corner, one of them drew out his knife and cut the other a severe gash in the cheek, just below the left eye, and then ran down Seventh street, the injured man walked up the Railroad and was supposed to be a stranger.

Bill Signed.—Governor Geary has signed the bill passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature, says the Lebanon Courier, giving the public land script to the State Agricultural College. This "College" is certainly getting its full share of State appropriations. When the truth is known, it will be found there are some very shrewd fellows in the back ground who are not altogether disinterested managers in the work of annually putting the Collegiate arm into the State Treasury up to the elbow. Some honest investigating committees are badly needed about Harrisburg.

Severely Injured.—The Indiana Messenger says: On Tuesday last, as Mr. Abel Stewart, of this place, was engaged in blasting stones for the foundation of a mill, some three miles from town, a stone, about a foot square, was thrown a distance of eighty feet, and striking him on the leg, above the knee, inflicted a painful wound. Mr. Stewart was brought home in the evening and is now doing well.

Patriotic Pittsburgh.—The Indiana Messenger has the following good word for Pittsbugh: A Fair is going to be held in Pittsburgh, commencing on the 18th inst., and continuing two weeks, which has for its object the raising of funds for the erection of a Soldiers' Monument in Allegheny county. Patriotic Pittsburgh is going to be as generous to our boys dead as she was liberal to them living.

Two Members of the Race Hurt by a Race.—Two farmers living near Zanesville, while driving their teams home from town, a few days ago, commenced racing, which ended in upsetting both the wagons and the serious if not fatal injury of both the men.

Badly Beaten.

Thomas Brown, of East Liberty, yesterday made information before Alderman Donaldson, charging William McKinley with aggravated assault and battery. The alleged offense was committed on the 6th instant, on Thomas Freeman, a young Irishman in the employ of Mr. Brown. It seems according to the statement made, that on the afternoon mentioned, Freeman was driving Mr. Brown's horse and wagon from the shop of the latter, on Liberty street to East Liberty. While passing through the latter place, he was accosted by McKinley, who wished to buy the horse. Freeman replied that the horse was not for sale. McKinley insisted, when angry words ensued. It is alleged that McKinley then attacked Freeman, drew him out of the wagon and beat him severely about the face and head, so that when Mr. Brown returned home, he could scarcely recognize his man. McKinley was arrested yesterday afternoon, and held for a further hearing on Monday next. McKinley does not deny the beating but claims that Freeman was as bad as he.

The Fashions.—A few of the earliest spring styles in bonnets have arrived. The present are nothing essentially new in form, though they are distinguished by the usual variety of new names—the "Henrietta," the "Levigne," etc. Most of them droop slightly in front and are raised at the crown so as to take in the still aspiring waterfall. They require very little face-trimming, have mimic crowns and curtains, and tie behind the ears. The materials are various fancy straws and Tuscan braids.

An Aid to Devotion.—The Conneautville Record says that some boys in the neighborhood of Greenville threw a live skunk into a church during service, and then got away during the confusion which ensued. Their object probably was to bring the congregation to a realizing scents of their situation.

Swindled.—The Beaver Local states that the National Bank of Beaver county, at New Brighton, has been swindled out of four or five thousand dollars by a worthless note.

Dam Lost.—The late flood in the Monongahela carried away the dam on the Youghiogheny river, five miles above McKeesport.

THE BUTLER COUNTY HOMICIDE.

Trial of John B. Adlington for the Murder of Sidney B. Cunningham and James H. Teeples, at Portersville, Thursday, March 7th, 1867.

In the Court of Oyer and Terminer of the county of Butler, Friday, March 8th, 1867.

Before His Honor, Lawrence L. M'Guffin, and his Associates, Joseph Cummings and William Garvey, Judges.

W. H. H. Riddle, District Attorney, E. Mc Junkin and L. Z. Mitchell, for Commonwealth.

John M. Thompson, Charles M'Candless, J. N. Purviance, of Butler, and J. C. M'Carthy, of Pittsburgh, for defendant.

About 4½ o'clock P. M., the prisoner was brought into Court for arraignment, when John M. Thompson, on behalf of the defendant, moved to quash the array of Grand Jurors, for the following reasons:

First. It does not appear by the return of the Sheriff, or otherwise, that the jurors were legally drawn.

Second. The Commissioners did not make out and deliver to the Sheriff a list of the names of persons alleged to have been drawn to serve as Grand Jurors.

Third. No list of such jurors was set up in the Sheriff's office, for the inspection of all persons concerned.

Fourth. The Commissioners did not make out and deliver the list of names of such jurors to the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions, or Oyer and Terminer.

Fifth. The Clerk of said Court set up no such list in his office for the inspection of all persons concerned.

Sixth. The Sheriff was not furnished with the list of names to be summoned as Grand Jurors until the fourth day of the term at which said jurors were to attend, to-wit, the seventh day of March, 1867.

Seventh. The list of the names of the persons to be summoned as Grand Jurors was not annexed in a panel to the venire for a grand jury until the 4th day of the term to which said venire was returnable.

Eighth. The Sheriff did not return said venire until the fourth day of the term to which it was returnable, and two days after this bill of indictment had been returned by the (alleged) Grand Jury, when it was filed by the Clerk; as appears, and as, in fact, it was, filed March 5th, 1867.

Ninth. The Sheriff made return to said venire, the 7th day of March, A. D. 1867—which was the 4th day of Term to which it was returnable—the Term beginning March 4th.

Tenth. At the time the Grand Jury was constituted by being sworn and charged by the Judge of said Court, and at the time they acted upon, reported and returned the bill of indictment against John B. Adlington, no return of said venire had been made by the Sheriff, nor was any list of the names of said jurors been made by any persons, and delivered to the said Sheriff, nor offered, nor annexed to said venire.

Eleventh. There was not a list of the names of the said alleged jurors in existence in the place or places required for the inspection of the defendant, and all others concerned.

Twelfth. The list of the names of the said alleged jurors does not contain the name, surname and addition or occupation and place of residence of each of said jurors.

Mr. Thompson said there was nothing on the face of the writ to show that the clerk had been ordered by the Court, or by two of the judges, in vacation, to issue the writ of venire commanding the Commissioners and Sheriff to impanel a grand jury and the Sheriff to summon them to try all causes and matters, &c., as is required by the act of Assembly, relating to that subject. The act requires a return of the manner in which the Sheriff executed the writ; of notice to Commissioners; of the drawing of jurors from the wheel; of the serving of the summons upon the persons so drawn, with their names, surnames and additions or occupations, and place of abode annexed to the venire; and this return must be made on the first day of the said Court. This was necessary because the prisoner could not go all over the whole country to ascertain who the grand jurors are who must pass, preliminarily, upon his rights—who are to find a true bill or ignore an indictment against him. The office of the Clerk of the Court, where the return of the venire with a panel of jurors annexed, and list of them—with their names, surnames and occupations—posted up, is the proper place to examine the list of jurors.

The panel returned here does not contain the full name, surname, addition or occupation of every juror summoned; but, in many instances only the initials—as, W. W. Dodds, &c., who appears on the paper purporting to be an indictment against a prisoner, as the foreman of a Grand Jury. No one could legally tell what Dodds was meant, or what the initials signified. The names should be written in full.

On Monday last there was not a single legal juryman—either Grand or petit—in attendance on this Court. There was no return to the venire until Thursday, the 7th instant. The writ was not in the Clerk's office until yesterday. He (Mr. Thompson) wished to see it, on behalf of the prisoner, and the Sheriff went to his house for it. The return and panel attached were made to-day after he (Thompson) had given notice that he should, at the proper time, move to quash the array of jurors.

If there was no legal grand jury there could be no legal bill of indictment at this time against the prisoner. That which purported to be a bill of indictment was of no more legal consequence, than if it had been drawn up by twenty-four intelligent men, promiscuously assembled anywhere in the county of Butler. Hence they could not be asked to plead to the bill of indictment, nor to state their objections to that instrument, until after the Court had decided upon the motion to quash the array.

The act of Assembly authorizing the Court, in the event of the array of jurors being set aside, to issue a venire, returnable immediately, does not apply to grand jurors. It only applies to those who are to try the cause, to wit: petit jurors. Hence, if this panel fails, the cause will have to be postponed until next term.

Adjourned till this morning at nine.

The Arrest of the United States Treasury Robber.

We have already published telegrams giving a partial account of the arrest by Major Couzzins, of St. Louis, of A. W. Lee—the clerk, who, on the 20th of January last, robbed the Loan Bank of the Treasury Department, at Washington city, of $40,000 in 7-30 and 5-20 bonds. We give below, copied from the Missouri Democrat, a fuller account of the arrest. From Lee's confession it appears that the fugitive visited Pittsburgh on his tramp and exchanged $5,000 of the stolen bonds for greenbacks. Here, as elsewhere, he was not recognized, although full descriptions of him had been telegraphed to all the cities:

Being in doubt as to this being the man he was after, Couzzins had himself introduced to Lee as a mule shipper, cultivated his acquaintance, walked through the city with him, and treated him to oysters at John Laday's. Lee had assumed the name of C. Miller, and was known in the Marble City by that name.

On Monday night Lee left the Marble City and put up at the Planters' House. After Lee retired to bed Couzzins obtained a step ladder, which he took in the adjoining room, and was thus enabled to watch Lee's proceedings during the night through the transom over the door.

Yesterday morning the detective knocked at Lee's door, and on being admitted, threw off the mask of the mule shipper and introduced himself in his true character, telling the astonished absquatulator that he was a prisoner and must account for the stolen bonds. Lee offered no resistance, but firmly denied that he was the man who had stolen the bonds.

The trunk was opened, and in it were about $4,000 in greenbacks and $33,000 in 7-30 bonds. Some money was also found in Lee's pockets; the whole amounting to $37,155.

Finding that further denial was useless, Lee at length confessed that he was the man who had stolen the bonds. He said, he commenced by taking small sums, but being satisfied that in time his peculations would be discovered, he stole $40,000 in bonds and started for the West. He went to Pittsburgh, where he converted $5000 of bonds into greenbacks, and then started for Cairo. A that place he took passage on the steamer Marble City for Memphis, from which place he went to New Orleans. He says that from the time he stole the bonds he was not in his right mind, and wandered about without a fixed purpose, not knowing where to go or what to do.

Lee is a fine looking man, about fifty-six years of age, has been in good society, and is the last man that a detective would suspect of being a thief. He says he was once a New York auctioneer.

District Court.

Before Hon. H. W. Williams.

In the case of H. B. Comer vs. J. D. Williams, tried a day or two since, plaintiff's counsel moved for a new trial.

Joseph Crittes vs. Samuel Hamilton. This was an action on a scire facias to revive a judgment. A verdict was rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of $848.

Union Iron Mills vs. the Tionesta Oil and Barrel Manufacturing Co. This was an action to recover $2,865.66, alleged to be due for hoop iron furnished defendants. The defendants did not deny the delivery of the iron, but claimed that the quality was not such as was contracted for and that there was a difference in the price asked. The jury found for plaintiffs in the sum of $2,792.30.

The Court issued an order directing the Prothonotary to make out a new trial list, embracing all cases now on the issue docket, and such others as may be placed thereon before the 16th instant. This list will be taken up on the first Monday in April.

Commons.—There were only three common cases before Mayor Morrison yesterday morning, all for drunkenness. They were fined $1,50 each, and sent away.

Arrested.—It will be remembered that on New Year's day last, a party of men, of whom Peter Delaney was one, entered Ruckreigle's saloon, and behaved in a riotous and disorderly manner, breaking things in the house and assaulting Mrs. Kate Ruckreigle, beating her severely. Mrs. R. made information against the party and some of them were arrested and punished at the time. Peter Delaney, however, made his escape and was not arrested until yesterday. Yesterday morning, officer Owens, of the Special Police, who had a warrant for the arrest of Delaney, captured him as he was coming out of the Criminal Court room. Delaney is locked up for a hearing.

Also, a communication from the Secretary of War, transmitting a report from General Howard on the destitution in the Southern States.

Petitions and memorials were presented from Arkansas, and one from Louisiana for appropriations for repairs to the Mississippi levees. Referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. THAYER presented a memorial from the Nebraska Legislature for the erection of a bridge across the Platte river, in continuation of the military road from Platte river to Kansas. Also a joint resolution and memorial for a mail route, &c. all appropriately referred.

LAND APPROPRIATION FOR SCHOOLS.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill granting 10,000,000 acres of public land for the benefit of public schools in the District of Columbia. Referred.

DISABLED SOLDIERS' ASYLUM.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill to amend the charter of the national asylum for disabled soldiers and sailors, by allowing members of Congress to serve as directors. Passed and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

RESOLUTION OF INQUIRY.

Mr. HENDERSON offered a resolution, calling on the Secretary of War to communicate to the Senate whether armed expeditions had been sent against the Indians in western territories, and if so, under what orders and against what tribes.

THANKS TO MR. PEABODY.

Mr. SUMNER called up the resolution of thanks to Mr. Peabody for his munificent liberality in giving $2,000,000 for educational purposes in the South, and directing the President to cause a gold medal to be struck and presented to Mr. Peabody in the name of the American people. Adopted—yeas, 35; nays 2, viz: Messrs Grimes and Tipton.

WHISKY AT THE CAPITOL.

Mr. WILSON called up the resolution to prevent the sale or use of spirituous liquors in the Capitol building. Considered and referred to Committee on Public Buildings. Vote 22, against 21.

ALEXANDRIA ANNEXATION.

The bill to annex Alexandria to the District of Columbia, was referred to Judiciary Committee. After executive session, the Senate adjourned till to-morrow.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

SYMPATHY FOR IRELAND.

Mr. WOOD asked leave to offer the following:

Resolved, That this House extend its sympathy to the people of Ireland in their present struggle for constitutional liberty. If the despotic government of Europe shall be allowed to establish monarchial institutions in America, so should the United States foster and promote the extension of republican institutions in Europe.

Mr. BROWN objected, and there being already pending since yesterday a motion to suspend rules, Mr. Wood was prevented from making a similar motion.

COMPOUND INTEREST NOTES.

The motion to suspend the rules, made yesterday by Mr. Price, to enable him to introduce a joint resolution to apply the surplus funds in the Treasury over seventy millions to the redemption of compound interest notes, came up. The vote was yeas 68; nays 36. Two-thirds not voting in the affirmative, the rules were not suspended.

PARIS EXPOSITION APPROPRIATION.

The Senate joint resolution appropriating $50,000 additional to enable the people of the United States to participate in the advantages of the Paris Exposition was passed.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Mr. WILSON, of Iowa, as Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of War to furnish information relative to the property seized or taken possession of by the Government or its agents in Louisiana; also the papers in the case of Kenner & Jachorie. Adopted.

SYMPATHY FOR THE IRISH PEOPLE.

Mr. WOOD moved to suspend the rules that he might introduce his joint resolution expressing sympathy for the people of Ireland.

The rules were suspended by 103 yeas to 13 nays, and the joint resolution introduced.

Mr. WOOD moved the previous question, which was not seconded—33 against 89.

Mr. BANKS moved to refer the resolution to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, when appointed.

Mr. BANKS remarked that the naked expression of sympathy for Ireland amounted to very little. There was not a member of the House who did not entertain that sentiment as strongly as the gentleman from New York, but the resolution was coupled with other questions affecting the interests of the country, which should be considered by the Committee on Foreign Affairs. He should ask the House to have the Speaker immediately appoint that Committee.

The question on referring the resolution prevailed—yeas 98, nays 59.

Mr. BANKS offered the following resolution, that in view of the events transpiring on the Northern frontier of the United States, it is expedient that the Standing Committee on Foreign Affairs shall be now appointed by the Speaker, for the purpose of considering foreign relations. Adopted.

RECONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE.

Mr. STEVENS moved to suspend the rules so that he might introduce a Joint Resolution reappointing the Committee of fifteen on Reconstruction. Rejected—81 yeas, 50 nays—two thirds not voting in the affirmative.

After the transaction of some unimportant business, the House adjourned till Monday.

Washington Items.

[The Specials to New York Papers.]

The Tribune's special says: Gen. Grant to-day sent to the President the names of four distinguished Generals, as commanders in the military districts in the Southern States, Schofield, Sickles, Sheridan and Thomas. The fifth has not yet been decided. It will be either Hancock or Ord.

The Speaker of the House having intimated that the appointment of a tariff commission would really usurp the functions of the Committee of Ways and Means, it is probable that the movement for such a commission will be abandoned. The extreme tariff advocates refuse to consent to any proposition of this kind, unless they can control it.

The Times' special says that at the Senatorial caucus the whole subject of adjournment was fully discussed. A surprising amount of sentiment was displayed against the impeachment movement, especially against any recess or adjournment which would bring Congress back here again in a short time for the express purpose of considering this question. The only Senator who spoke unequivocally for impeachment was Chandler. As to adjournment the very general expression was in favor of remaining in session only long enough to close up the Executive business, and then adjourning to meet no sooner than November or December next. No final action was taken. The impeachment fever was increased by Wednesday night's action of the House caucus. It was last night cooled down by the action of the Senate caucus.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, March 8, 1867.

The following are the New York stock quotations for to-day: Gold, 134¾; 1881 bonds, 109; Five Twenties, old, 109⅝; Five Twenties, '65, 107⅛; do new, 106¼; Seven Thirties, 105⅜. Michigan Southern Railroad, 71⅜; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 79⅜; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 93⅜; Erie, 53⅜; Chicago and Northwestern, 32⅜; do preferred, 60⅜; New York Central, 101⅜; Chicago and Rock Island, 93⅜.

—The public debt statement up to the 1st instant is better than had been anticipated, as it shows a net decrease of $12,585,858. The coin in the Treasury has increased nearly eight millions, and the currency nearly seven millions, though the total debt, unreduced by coin and currency, in hand, is nearly five millions greater than on the 1st of February. The debt bearing coin interest has increased about forty-four and a half millions, and the debt bearing currency interest has decreased thirty-two and a half millions. The debt bearing no interest has decreased over six millions, and the debt on which interest has ceased decreased about one and a quarter millions.

—The passage of the bankrupt law is commented upon with much satisfaction among business men, and the expectation is general that after the law has been in active operation for a few months its good effects will be seen in renewed enterprise on the part of an important aggregate of the community whose hands have been hitherto tied by their creditors.

—In Boston it is reported that there is a general feeling of distrust of the transactions of bankers and brokers since the recent stock-house failure there exposed the gross irregularities which had been practised, and the credit of good houses suffers in consequence. The First National Bank, of Newton, Mass., is stated to be without assets, and this, alike with its defunct namesake of Hudson, New York, has been placed under the charge of a treasury agent. The Mechanics' National Bank of Baltimore, in which a heavy defalcation of long standing has just been discovered, will not, it is announced, suspend business, although the stockholders will be mulcted severely to make up the deficiency. These failures and crimes, followed so soon after the failure of the National Bank of Medina, New York, cannot be supposed to occur without exciting distrust far beyond the localities where they took place.

—The New York Times says the reports of the February traffic over the Western Railways is, with a few exceptions, better than last year. The Northwest and the Illinois show gains. Both the Michigan roads also gain—the Southern $194,000, as against $181,000 in February, 1866. The general prospect for the present month of March is that the traffic of last year will be exceeded, East as well as West.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, March 8, 1867.

There is a slight improvement visible in the general tone of the produce markets, the volume of business in the aggregate being on the increase, and a more confident and better feeling seems to prevail in commercial circles. Both Flour and Grain are more active and a shade firmer, and Provisions, although as yet without decided change, are beginning to look up, as are also some other articles we might mention. It is but proper to remark, however, that the demand is restricted almost entirely to supplying the immediate wants of consumers, there being an almost entire absence of anything like a speculative feeling.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet but held firmly at $2,55 to $2,60 for No. 1 Spring, and $2,80 for prime Red Winter. Oats in fair demand with sales on wharf and track, at 49 to 50. There is an improved demand for Barley, and No. 1 Spring sells readily at 95 to $1—sale of 200 bush at $1. Corn is dull but firm; may be quoted at 68 to 70, on wharf and track. Rye is in demand, but buyers at anything above $1,30, are scarce.

FLOUR—Is firm and in rather better demand but unchanged. We continue to quote at $12 to $12,50 for good to choice Spring Wheat brands; $13,50 to $14,50 for Winter Wheat, and $16 to $17 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $7 to $7,25, and Buckwheat $6,25 to $6,50 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is a shade firmer, and tending upward; We now quote at 9¾ to 10 for Shoulders, 11¾ to 11½ for Ribbed Sides, and 14¾ to 15 for Hams. Lard is steady but unchanged at 12 to 12¼, for steamed, and 12½ to 13, for kettle. Mess Pork, $21 to $21,50.

BUTTER—Is dull, and in good supply but unchanged. Sale of prime fresh Roll, in a regular way, at 28 to 30.

EGGS—In rather better demand, and a shade firmer; fresh packed may be quoted at 21 to 22.

SEEDS—There is a fair demand for Clover and Timothy Seeds, and we can report regular jobbing sales at $8,50 to $9 for the former, and $3 to $3,25 for the latter. Flaxseed is in demand at $2,80 to $2,85.

DRIED FRUIT—Is in good supply and dull, though nominally unchanged. Sales of Apples at 9c to 10c, and Peaches at 16c to 20c.

GREEN APPLES—Dull but unchanged. Sales in store at 75 to 80 per bush, and $2,50 to $2,75, per bbl as, to quality.

HAY—Is dull but unchanged. Sale of 1 car good baled at $21.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, March 8, 1867.

CRUDE—There is no bottom to the Crude market as yet—sale of two thousand barrels to-day, all the year, seller's option, at 5¾—sales on the spot, yesterday at 6 to 6⅛. We can also report a sale of 500 bbls (40 gravity) at 6⅛, bbls returned, and 100 (40 to 43 gravity) at 7. On the spot quotations may be fairly given at 5¾ to 6, in bulk and barrels returned, and 11 to 11¼, bbls included. For future delivery, there is some little inquiry, but we have no sales reported, and prices are irregular—there was a sale on Thursday, for May, at 7. It is said that there are from two hundred and fifty to three hundred thousand barrels of oil in tank in the Venango oil regions.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil continues dull and depressed, and, as expressed by a Philadelphia telegram to-day, is unfathomable. We have not a single transaction to report. The best offer for immediate delivery in Philadelphia is 25¾ for prime light straw to white, which would be equivalent to 19¾@20, free on board cars here. There are also offers to buy standard white for the last half of the year, at 31, delivered in Philadelphia, but no sellers. For free oil there is very little inquiry, and prices are barely maintained—standard brands offering at 40.

—Since the above was put in type, we have the following sales reported: 1000 barrels crude, on the spot, 5¾; 109 bbls (muddy) at 3½; 1000 bbls standard white, for April delivery in Philadelphia, at 27; and 50 bbls Residuum, at $2.25 per bbl.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

D. Bushnell	1500	Fisher & Bro	1300
W. P. Logan	1200	J. Gallagher	800
Total	4800

PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, March 8, 1867.

There is no improvement to note in the general tone of the metal market, the demand being very much restricted, and consequently, we have but comparatively few transactions to record. As yet, there has been no settlement of the difficulties between the mill owners and puddlers, and the indications at present for an early resumption are, apparently, about as remote as ever. The former appear to have firmly resolved that they will not start up the mills until the puddlers are willing to go to work at $7 per ton, while the latter, it is rumored, have expressed a willingness to compromise on $8. Thus the matter stands at present, though it is most earnestly desired that the troubles above referred to may be amicably adjusted, and that, too, before long. Foundry irons are in moderate request, but the sales are generally of an unimportant character. We quote the following sales:

HANGING ROCK CHARCOAL.
15 tons	Cold Blast Hecla	$68 00—	4 mos
10 do	do Iron Valley	65 00—	do
104 do	Hot do No. 1	53 00—	do

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, March 8—The market for Cotton goods is fairly active for all seasonable styles, and prices are fairly sustained, except for some dark styles of calicoes which have been reduced 2c per yard; Merrimac reduced to 17; Manchester, 15, and Waurego to 15, but both the latter sell readily at 17 for all fresh styles, and Merrimacs bring 18 in other styles. There is no important change to observe in woolens, which are selling more freely and are rather firmer, as are staple styles of imported stuff goods. Carpets of best imported makes are fully 5c higher. Silk dress goods are doing better. Ribbons and cloths are rather dull, and the former remain depressed.

Philadelphia Market.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8—Flour dull; State $13,00. Wheat dull; sales 2,000 bus. State at $3,00; California, $3,20. Corn quiet; sales 3,000 bus. yellow at 99c. Provisions unchanged. Whiskey, $1,40.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

Financial Matters.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Money market moderately active, with an ample supply, working easier at the close. The Railroad market opened buoyant at an early hour, and higher prices made for all the leading shares; call loans were gradually settling to 5@6 per cent. at the first open board, when the market fell off ½@¾ per cent. with a fair business at stock exchange; the market was firm right through call, although hammered somewhat by the bears. After the session there was a decline of ½@¾ per cent. but the market was steady at decline. At the one o'clock board the market was firm and generally better, and at the subsequent boards there was a further advance; the closing prices being the highest of the day, with Bull interest in the ascendant.

Government Securities were heavy this afternoon on gold bonds, and there was a decline of ⅛@¼ per cent. except on new 5-20s. RIVER NEWS.

The river rose steadily at this point all day yesterday, and was still rising last evening with about twelve feet in the channel. The weather was cloudy and cool, though favorable for out-door operations.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—The Yorktown, Captain Ebbert, and Amelia Poe, Capt. Thos Poe, will positively leave here to-day for Fort Benton, and all intermediate points. These are both good mountain boats, and here is an excellent chance for persons going to the gold regions.

It is reported that the Directors of the Peoples' Line of Brownsville Packets, have concluded to withdraw one of their boats for the present, and that already the Chieftain has been laid up. Therefore, they have now but one boat, the Elector, on the track, and she will make three trips a week, leaving here every other day at 5 o'clock.

The Robt. Moore, from Portsmouth arrived and departed, as did also the Brownsville and Parkersburg packets. The Maggie Hays, from Cincinnati, had not arrived when we left the wharf, though, momentarily expected.

The Belle arrived from Oil City, and will return again to-morrow evening. It would seem that the Belle and Ida Rees No. 2, are now the only packets in the Allegheny river trade, the Urilda under going repairs, and the Peerless having been sold to go out of the trade.

The Great Republic, Capt. Donaldson, is rapidly approaching to completion, and will leave for New Orleans as advertised. The Messenger, Capt. Jesse Dean, will follow the Great Republic.

Capt. Anawalt expects to have his model barges here in about ten days, when he will commence loading them for whatever point there is most freight offering.

The Savanna, Capt. McGowan, is loading for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi, and the America, Capt. Golding, is up for Nashville.

The Glendale, Capt. Hare, is loading as an independent packet for St. Louis and the Missouri river.

The Maggie Hays, Capt. Hendrickson, is the regular Saturday packet for Cincinnati, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

The Republic's chimneys are up. They are seventy-five feet high. Away goes that bridge. She was "still loading," at last accounts for New Orleans.—Louisville Democrat.

The chimneys are not up, nor will they be erected till after the great Leviathan of western waters passes under the big bridge at Cincinnati, so there is no danger of its being carried away. The Republic is still loading, but the immense amount of freight already stowed away in her hold hardly hides the capacious corners. She will reserve sufficient room to fill up at Louisville and, if hard pressed, may take aboard the taut little steamer Richmond. Verily, our boat, our big boat, our monstrous queen of the rivers, has excited much attention at Louisville, and when she moves to at that port, we expect every citizen there to be out with his smoked glass to see the brilliant vessel which is to eclipse the bantling Richmond. Keep patient gentlemen, bide your time, and pray that you may not miss seeing the Great Republic.

The man who formerly had possession of the fire plug on the corner of Wood and Water streets, and who afterwards went for a bonded warehouse in Philadelphia, and subsequently for the bar on the Fayette, has returned to his post (or rather plug) where his friends and admirers will find him.—Republic.

The good natured father of the educational interests of the intellectual Third ward, has renounced his intention to practice at the Monongahela bar, and will resume his old quarters on the top of the fire plug, corner of Wood and Water streets. Thus the handsome plug will not suffer from running astern of bad society.

The Importer did not sink, as has been reported. She struck the bar while turning out of the Mississippi into the Ohio, but did not stop. The passengers rushed to the cabin doors simultaneously and blockaded egress, jamming themselves against the doors until the fright was over. No damage was done.

Captain D. H. Swaney, of the Armadillo, was fined last week for employing two pilots and an engineer who had no license. The pilots and engineer were also fined for serving without this license. If Captain Swaney was fined on all the accounts, he had to pay quite a sum of money, as the penalty is $100 in each case.

The St. Louis Democrat says: "Whisky is a power on the Mississippi. The bar of the Great Republic, a steamer about to engage in the St. Louis and New Orleans trade, was rented to some one for $16,000 per year—five thousand paid when the boat was on the stocks, and five thousand dollars to be paid when she makes her first trip. Two thousand dollars per annum is paid for the bar on her lower deck. At least so it has been reported."

A Cairo telegram, under date of Wednesday, says: The Dick Fulton had an immense tow of coal. The St. Charles and Armenia were deeply laden. The Armenia was compelled to tie up every night below Cincinnati, owing to bad weather. The Isabella had a full load for Johnsonville. The Coal City has a number of empty coal barges.

On Monday night of last week the towboat Valid, with a tow of seven barges of coal for Nashville, met with an accident at Rock Island. In trying to land the barges became entangled in the woods, and the result is large loss of property and a probable loss of life. Two of the barges were mashed up at once and the rest went floating down at the mercy of the high and remorseless river. At last accounts the Captain of the Valid passed Carrollton with the remains of the wreck, still striving to save all he could.

The Ezra Porter was loading at Carondelet, with iron ore for Pittsburgh on Wednesday, and the Silver Lake No. 4 left Saint Louis on same day for this port.

One-half the Florence Traber was purchased at Memphis, a few days ago, for eight hundred dollars. Capt. R. Haynes was the purchaser.

Capt. Ash. Hopkins, formerly of the White Cloud No. 2, shot himself through the head at St. Louis, on Tuesday, and died yesterday morning. He formerly resided in Zanesville and Cincinnati.

The merchants and wharf-boat proprietors at Vicksburg, on the 27th ult., agreed to allow the wharf-boats one cent per package on all freight delivered by all boats, day or night, and an additional charge of two cents per package for every day that it remains in their care after the consignee has been notified. They shall also be allowed to charge twenty five cents for any number of packages delivered to them under five, and all freight by the New Orleans and Vicksburg packets shall be exempt from the above assessment. They shall also make the above charges on all goods they may forward in addition the charge for forwarding.

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Thursday:

The cabin crew of the Great Republic left for Pittsburgh in last night's train. Sam. Morgan is her steward. The Ida Stockdale reshipped her Louisville freight on the Spray. The mountain steamer Ida Stockdale passed down from Pittsburgh for Fort Benton, with a full cargo. She is owned, and was built under the superintendence of Capt. J. T. Stockdale, who came down on her. Capt. P. K. Barclay, of the Naugatuck, is also in the city. He reports the Naugatuck in the hands of the Missouri Wrecking Company, which will commence wrecking her immediately. The Pomeroy packet Fleetwood, Capt. Chas. Holloway, hereafter will extend her Saturday trips as far as Parkersburg, but on Wednesday she will only go as far as Pomeroy. She will make her first trip to Parkersburg on Saturday next.
